Our love for Eufora goes much deeper than just the fantastic products that they have sent to us to review. A lot of it comes from their openness to have a conversation with us about what they do (we love that). Ultimately, HairSomething is all about having a conversation (good or bad) around a brand and their products. If the brand wants to participate, we are thrilled! Thanks Eufora for all of your support!!! Check out Rob's review of Eufora's Piecework Defining Paste, and feel free to leave a comment with your thoughts. Let's keep this conversation going!
